DETAILED ACTION

Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 3-6 are allowed. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art fails to teach or make obvious controlling a plurality of motors for stopping said motors at a home orientation wherein each of said motors has a first contact, a second contact, and an output shaft, said plurality of motors being configured in a grid having columns and rows with said first contacts of all of said motors in one of said column connected in parallel by a first wire to a first pole of a power source through a first switch and said second contacts of all of said motors in one row connected in parallel by a second wire to a second pole of the power source through a second switch, wherein one of said plurality of motors in a first column and in a first row is energized by closing the first switch of the first column and the second switch of the first row to direct power across the first contacts of the first column and across the second contacts of the first row, the method comprising the steps of providing a switch on each of said plurality of motors, said switch having a first contact, a second contact, an open position, and a closed position, means on said output shaft of each motor for actuating said switch when said shaft is at said home orientation, said first contact of said switch connected to said first contact of said motor a detector for detecting a change in electric potential and connecting the second contact of said switches of each of the plurality of motors of the first row in parallel by a third wire to the detector detecting a change in electric potential, wherein said means for detecting will detect a change in potential when said shaft of said one of said motors rotates to its said home orientation and opening the first switch of the first column and the second switch of the first row when the detector detects the change in potential to stop rotation of one of the motors.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
